Dear Vlad:

I am writing this letter two months after our son Ariel's Bar Mitzvah, for which you catered the Friday night Shabbat dinner and Saturday Kiddush luncheon. Both were held at our synagogue, The First Narayever Congregation in downtown Toronto.

I must thank you and your staff for contributing to the warmth and success of the entire weekend. Firstly, from the beginning I greatly appreciated your personal service. You always returned my phonecalls and e-mail promptly. You answered all my questions patiently and suggested menu alternatives. You met with us at our house, which was a great convenience for us. You accommodated my last-minute request with a cake for my parents' anniversary.

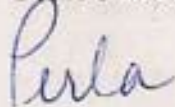

The Friday night dinner for sixty-five people went very smoothly, thanks to you and your staff. I especially appreciated how your staff was very alert, so that each latecomer was greeted and served immediately with soup. The food was delicious and went together very well. It was a wonderful way to begin the celebration of our son's Bar Mitzvah.

When I entered the synagogue Saturday morning, I was in awe over how beautiful the hall looked. Without any direct instructions from me, you and your staff arranged the tables, food, flower vases and napkins in a very elegant way. It was obvious everyone knew exactly what to do. For that, I am very appreciative. I only wish we would have been able to photograph the tables for a long-lasting souvenir.

The quality of the food was outstanding. Evidence of this was that there was very little left over. In addition, we received many compliments after the weekend.

All in all I want to thank you and your staff for all your hard work and a job well done. I will recommend your company to family and friends with no hesitation.

Thank you.
Yours sincerely,
